

It is said that the photograph, taken by Lawrence Beitler in 1930, stung Abel Meeropol into writing his poem 'Strange Fruit'.
The original photo depicts the lynching of Thomas Shipps and Abram Smith that took place in Marion, Indiana.